Response from Auto-Insurance regarding Council Insurance:

You have a liability policy that covers bodily injury and property damage to others. It does not cover council members as they are considered actual insured's of the policy. Depending on the circumstances your scenario of someone other than an insured getting sick from a meal that was served by the K of C would be something that typically would be a covered claim.

The estimated number of events on the policy is actually just a rating basis for the premium so it does not alter coverage in any way. Should we add the two more events below to your total of events for the year? Mark Thorne, Johnson Midwest Agency

c) New Business

I will be responsible for getting announcements in the bulletin/newsletter for upcoming Seafood Buffet and breakfasts (as well as postings to web site).
